DE CLAMENCY GETS 5 YEARS

French "Nabab" Sentenced for Passing Worthless Checks.

Philip E. De Clamency, who said he was a civil engineer and a graduate of the University of Paris, was sentenced to-day to five years in Sing Sing Prison by Judge Crane in General Sessions. He had pleaded guilty to passing a worthless check for $100 on William Bench, secretary of the Underwood Typewriter Company, on Oct. 16, last.

De Clamency's plea was made after a long and bitter fight, during which he had applied for his extradition. During the trial, he said he posed as a French army officer and as a count and lentured much to American soldiers on training. In 1911, while posing as a soldier, he received the key to the City of Boston and shortly after was convicted for forgery.

U. S. CONSIDERS FILING PROTEST ON REPARATION

Administration Embarrassed by Lack of Knowledge of Harding's Views.

DOESN'T WANT A CLASH.

Wilson Believes Terms are Impossible, but Harding May Decide Otherwise.

By David Lawrence.

(Special Correspondent of The Evening World.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (Copyright, 1921.)—The United States Government is considering whether or not it shall file a legal protest against the reparation settlement proposed by the Allies to Germany.

Behind the indecision of the State Department in the matter—far it is a fact that officials are in a quandary as to what should be done—is the best illustration that has yet come to the surface of the embarrassment that accrues from a change of Administration in the United States without some measure of cooperation—even unofficial—between the incoming and the outgoing Administration.

The customary way to protect and safeguard American rights in any transaction in which a Government may be unprepared to argue a case is to file a "caveat" or legal warning, which is in the nature of a notice to all concerned that exception is taken to the negotiations and that views on the question will be filed separately and at a later date.

The trouble about filing such a "caveat" in the present case is that American officials fear that Europe will promptly ask for America's position on reparation and State Department officials are unwilling to say anything that might be a handicap to President Harding after March 4th.

"It may be that President Harding will approve the reparation settlement," said one official. "We don't know anything about the views of the next Administration or its desires."

The Wilson Administration has made clear its position again and again in memoranda filed with the Allied Powers, and there is no doubt now in the minds of the European statesmen that the present Administration considers the proposals just made to the Germans as "proposterous" and "impossible of fulfillment."

Another interesting angle to the question is the fact that European Governments asked the United States to send an Ambassador to attend unofficially the council in Paris at which the reparation settlement was agreed upon. President Wilson declined to permit an American representative to sit in the council, because America had not ratified the very treaty under which it was proposed to collect reparation.

"We can't eat our cake and have it too," continued a high official of the department to-day. "We cannot ask for rights under a treaty which we have not even ratified."

One fortunate thing in the situation is the prospect that Germany will decline to accept the settlement and that the whole matter may be under discussion when the new Administration comes into power. The speech of the French Parliament of Andre Tardieu, formerly French High Commissioner to the United States, in which he took the Brand Ministry to task for hastening a settlement before President Harding could take the oath of office in Washington is looked upon here as the beginning of a better understanding in Europe that without American co-operation the entire reparation settlement may fall to the ground.

The more the terms of the reparation proposals are studied by officials here are beginning to feel that the entire proposal will collapse unless radically modified.

EIGHT HOLD-UP MEN GET TOTAL OF 76-2 YEARS IN PRISON

Judge Cropsey in Brooklyn Regrets He Can't Make Sentences More Severe.

Eight sentences, totalling a minimum of seventy-six and one-half years, were imposed by Justice Cropsey in the Criminal Term of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn to-day.

Russ Brice, twenty-six, of No. 197 Lexington Avenue, Manhattan, pleaded guilty to burglary in the first degree. He held up Harold Anderson and Arthur Williams at Tros Avenue and Park Place, Brooklyn, on Nov. 7, getting $40 and a watch.

"You told us a wonderful romance," said Justice Cropsey as he imposed sentence of ten to twenty years.

Brice began smiling. "No wonder you smile," the Justice said. "You probably think you fooled some of us. You know you killed a man, but you forgot to mention the matter. I'm sorry I can't find a previous conviction against you."

Vincenzo Bulone, twenty-five, of No. 119 Union Street, pleaded guilty of the murder, second degree, of Gaetano Lapone on Dec. 6. He was sentenced to twenty years to life.

John Farrell, eighteen, of No. 206 Seventh Street, who pleaded guilty to robbing Nat Hechtman of $54.10 at gun point, was sentenced to ten to twenty years.

Joseph Trusinsky, nineteen, of No. 21 19th Street, pleaded guilty to robbery in the first degree and was sentenced to ten to twenty years.

Sentencing Ralph Gabriel, twenty, of No. 18 Rochester Avenue, to seven and a half to fifteen years, Justice Cropsey said: "I am sorry this is all I can give you. You will serve the full term unless some nobler sister of a Governor lets you out. We haven't such a Governor now."

Angelo Vitale, nineteen, of No. 50 Stillman Street, involved with Gabriel, pleaded guilty to holding up Theodore Torme in his butcher shop and stealing $30, was sentenced to seven and a half to fifteen years.

Judge McIntyre in the Court of General Sessions here to-day imposed sentences aggregating (in the maximum) sixty-one years. There were four defendants. William Elkins, No. 309 East 16th Street, who held up and robbed Melvin Feinberg, No. 400 Riverside Drive, was sentenced to Sing Sing for four to fifteen years.

John J. Kelly of No. 331 Third Avenue was sentenced for two and a half to six years for killing Thomas Dogan at 40th Street and Third Avenue.

Giacomo Savio of Lawrence, Mass., got ten to twenty years for killing his father-in-law, Giacomo Costa of No. 139 Madison Street.

John Scutino was sentenced to ten to twenty years for killing William T. Corcoran of Dumont, N. J., in front of No. 61 East 125th Street.

It was announced that Judge Alfred J. Talley had disposed of ninety-six cases in January—a record number.

VOTE OF CLUB WOMEN ON.

Delegates Electing Officers of the City Federation.

Delegates from 333 women's clubs meeting to-day in the fifty-fourth annual convention of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs at the Astor, passed a resolution asking their members to petition the faculty of Columbia to "remove the ban on the admission of women to the law department of the university."

Fifteen hundred delegates and 600 associate members are in attendance at the convention and participating in the voting this afternoon at noon. Mrs. Richard C. Cushman and Miss Mary Wood are the opposing candidates for President to succeed Mrs. Harry L. Lyle. Mrs. Stanley Lyman Olin is the sole candidate for Vice President.

The convention also adopted resolutions favoring that women should be given preference in public appointments and that war veterans be given preference over civilian candidates.

NEWARK LOCKOUT ENDED.

Painters Accept Reduction, and 8,000 Men Go Back to Work.

Eight thousand building trades workers in Essex County, N. J., who have been locked out since Jan. 20, went back to work to-day. The Journeymen Painters' Union accepted a cut from 10 to 8 a day, effective Feb. 15.

Members of the Sheet Metal Workers' Union and a carpenters' local of Newark to-day made formal demands on the Building Trades Council for the restoration of William J. Lyon, the President, accused of collecting penalties from builders and causing irregularities when they refused to pay.

The demands followed the announcement by County Prosecutor J. Henry Harrison that he is investigating local activities and the Legislature would be asked next Monday to order an investigation of building conditions in Newark.

15 DAYS FOR SPEEDING.

Motorcyclist Also Charged With Failing to Answer Summons.

John Morrell, No. 2774 Arthur Avenue, the Bronx, was sentenced to fifteen days in the workhouse by Magistrate Cobb in the Morrisania Court to-day for speeding a motorcycle. It was his first conviction and he got the maximum penalty.

It was found that Morrell was speeding and arrested with a summons, but failed to appear and a warrant was issued. ## BUILDING TRADES "BOSS" WHO FACES 15 YEARS IN PRISON

ROBERT P. BRINDELL

SUNDY CIVIL BILL GIVES $17,500,000 TO AID SOLDIERS

Measure Reported to Senate Appropriates $410,921,107, Adding $28,432,415 to Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Carrying $17,500,000 to provide hospital facilities for sick and disabled former service men, the Sundry Civil Appropriations Bill was reported to the Senate to-day by Senator Warren.

The bill as reported carries a total of $410,921,107, an increase of $28,432,415 over the House bill.

The committee planned for 2,775 beds in the hospitals, which are to be constructed or rented at the following places: Boston, New York, Perryville, Md.; Norfolk, Whipple Barracks, Ariz.; Chicago, Lake City, Ark.; Santa Anita and Louisville, increased hospital facilities at Fort Macdonough, Wyo., and Walla Walla, Wash., also provided.

Five neuro-psychiatric and tuberculosis hospitals are to be erected, for which $12,500,000 of the $17,500,000 is provided. One is to be in the Central Atlantic section, one in the Great Lakes region, one in the Central Southwest, one in the Rocky Mountains and the fifth in southern California.

The appropriation for hospital facilities was made immediately available so that the thousands of soldiers, sailors and marines who are suffering from tuberculosis, nervous afflictions and other maladies, can be taken care of. This sum is a little more than half what the Public Health Service stated is immediately needed to provide 10,000 beds.

The Senate Committee put back the bill for several days in order to take the Wilson dam, in connection with the Murrel Shoals, Ala., nitrate plant. The House refused to grant this appropriation.

BRINDELL, GUILTY, HETRICK NEXT TO BE PUT ON TRIAL

Indictments were taken in the State and Federal Courts. Brindell's conviction is the most important, in fact, the only important conviction of a labor leader since that of the notorious Sam Barkin, who, backed by a band of ruffians known as his "entertainment committee," terrorized contractors and local workmen, making extortion anything but a fine art.

Mr. Untermyer said to-day: "The day of Brindell's conviction should be celebrated by workmen in all callings throughout the country as a Thanksgiving Day. In the quieting trade, the day marks the first sign of renewed light and hope for the 15,000 workmen he ruled with a rod of iron. To them it means the first glimpse of real industrial freedom."

"There never was a time in which the entire community was so completely at the mercy of a single laborer as individual or where protection against him and his kind was so essential to community and workers alike."

"The next step will be to place on trial his grating lieutenants and the master mind and men among the employers who combined to levy tribute upon every man, woman and child occupying a home. The trial of the first will begin on Tuesday morning. It will be the worst of a series in which John T. Hetrick is involved with certain labor leaders in the attempt to coerce employers into an illegal combination by denying to them the use of labor until they became part of this criminal conspiracy."

Mr. Untermyer said that owing to temporary ill health he would have no part in the prosecution, which would be undertaken by Col. Stimson and Kenneth Spence.

Referring to the unions, Mr. Untermyer said that he believed it right and necessary that there should be a council or consolidation of all the unions affecting the building trades in order that strikes might be avoided and collective bargaining conducted to the advantage of all. He added:

"Rotten as has been the council under Brindell, it has not been much worse than is the Association of Building Trades Employers under its present management in collaboration with which the council worked in a hostile and destructive way hand in hand."

HUNT CHAUFFEUR WHO TOOK STOLEN BONDS TO MEMPHIS

Police Unearth "Fence" Where $1,000,000 in Securities Have Been Received.

Detectives McCoy and Ruddy of New York Police Headquarters are to arrive this afternoon in Memphis, where it is reported the police have uncovered a "fence" in which more than $1,000,000 worth of stolen securities have been received. The particular object of the detectives is to trace two New York chauffeurs who took $225,000 worth of stolen bonds to the Tennessee city.

These bonds have been identified as part of the loot obtained Nov. 29 last when three bandits held up two messengers employed by Kean, Taylor & Co., bankers, of No. 5 Nassau Street. The messengers were robbed of $400,000 in Liberty Bonds being delivered to Igou Brothers, mail manufacturers at No. 60 Metropolitan Avenue, Brooklyn.

The two chauffeurs were arrested in Memphis Jan. 7, for liquor law violations and forfeited their bail bonds. At the time of their arrest their implication in the $1,000,000 "fence" transactions was not known. Their part in disposing of the stolen securities was discovered by Inspector Coughlin after telephone communications with the Memphis police.

District Attorney Lewis of Brooklyn to-day admitted he was in possession of new and important information bearing on the robbery. A cadre of detectives have been busy tracing sales of the stolen bonds.

Since $20,000 worth turned up here in the hands of C. F. Childs & Co., and $145,000 in the Chicago office of the same firm, the bonds have been traced through so many hands it was said to be certain court action would be invoked to establish the ownership. The $30,000 found here are still held by the Federal Reserve Bank.

The situation in Chicago is still more complicated. After it had become known that the $145,000 worth bought by the Chicago office of Childs were part of the holdup loot, it was learned they had been sold to twenty or more Chicagoans. Despatches from Chicago stated that the Federal Reserve Bank there decided the holders of the stolen bonds need not surrender them.

The New York end of the investigation of recent developments is said to indicate that at least some of the $21,000 bonds still missing were sold here.

BELIEVE CREW LOST OF SHIP ASHORE

Schooner on Shoals Apparently in Good Shape—Coast Guards Standing By.

(Special to The Evening World.)

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 4.—Belief that the crew of the schooner Carroll Doering, ashore on Diamond Shoals, with all sails set, abandoned her at sea and attempted to get ashore in lifeboats and were lost, is held by the coast guards at Station 153. They are standing by to give what help is possible.

A portion of Diamond Shoals is often clear of water, but all of it is now inundated. The vessel, which came ashore several days ago, is not in any apparent danger since she has already turned completely around, showing there is little water in her hold.

Efforts are being made to get the vessel off the shoals without damaging her, but high seas have made this impossible up to this time.
